

A New Start for a New Year – What could be Better?

2016 can be the year of the new you – with a new career. If you are looking at your options, 2016 will indeed be a good year for you. More companies are adding more to their employee force than they have in a number of years. This means that they will be competing with one another for good candidates, and that can put you in the driver's seat as you seek a change.

Here are just a few of the opportunities that you can be looking at as the New Year rolls around.

AGE UK

With an ever-growing aging population, and a population that is always in danger of isolation, there is a huge need for compassionate and caring individuals who can contribute to making the lives of the elderly more comfortable, richer, and more fulfilling.

Age UK is that largest charity in the country that is focused solely on the elderly and is looking for candidates, particularly in the Chelsea and Kensington areas, who can share its mission of a fuller life for our senior citizens. Many of our seniors have nowhere to turn but Age UK, and you could become a part of the mission to show them that they are worthwhile and valuable.

Clintons

Clintons is a true icon. For years it has been the most popular source for cards, gift wrap, scented candles and other gift accessories. Certainly, every Clintons store is amazingly busy during holiday times, but it is a strong and steady company to work for all year round. They will be looking to add to their staff during 2016, so consider looking into their employment opportunities. Right now, they are looking for managers and assistant managers, buyers, and agents for their help desks in a variety of locations. Among the many perks is a 40% discount for all employees and great music that creates a happy atmosphere all year round.

Coca-Cola

Now here's a company that will be around forever. People who work for Coca-Cola have employment security, knowing that their company will continue to grow and expand, just as it is in almost every country in the world. There are two divisions of Coca-Cola in the UK – CCGB (Coca-Cola Great Britain) and Coca-Cola Enterprises Ltd. Both are hiring, and you could start the New Year with any number of positions, depending upon your background and qualifications. You can join 4600 other satisfied employees in sales, engineering, tech, or marketing. You will be joining one of the world's largest corporations, with over 20 brand names in its repertoire. Positions are available throughout the UK.

Toys R Us

Give in to your inner child, because, really, childhood is for all ages, and toys aren't just for Christmas. Another behemoth corporation, with over 1500 stores around the globe, Toys R Us is here to stay. And you can become part of the ever-growing team of sales associates, managers, IT specialists, and customer support staff, if you like the retail side, or hook a job as a buyer, administrator, or market analyst. The company has plans to expand further in 2016, and getting in on that expansion might be just the perfect destination for you.

From stuffed animals to the new Star Wars toys and everything in between, what a fun place to spend your days – you can nurture your inner child 8 hours every day! Openings are available at all locations or at their local headquarters.

Harrods

Just the name brings up thoughts of 5 acres of shopping in London alone. It also conjures up thoughts of premier quality and service that has existed since the company opened its doors in 1834.

Working for Harrods isn't just a job – it's a workplace lifestyle unequaled anywhere else. Today, Harrods employs more than 12,000 and is always looking for the right people to join its team and make sure that the 300,000+ daily shoppers have a premier experience.

Harrods is currently looking for security, retail sales professionals, engineers and HR personnel. Your New Year could have you taking that famous Harrods escalator to new career heights.
